Russian Torpedo Boat Damages a Japanese Cruiser

FALL OF PORT ARTHUR REPORTED

The Daring Exploit of a Young Russian Naval Officer in Charge of a Small Torpedo Boat

Japanese Cruiser Damaged

Liao Tung, May 15th.—The Russian fleet scored its first distinct naval success of May 16th by torpedoing and ripping, though not sinking, an armored Japanese cruiser at Taikwan Bay. The attacking force was not a regular torpedo boat but a small nautilus launch in command of a young naval officer with three jacks. It mounted a small gun and carried three torpedoes. When darkness fell the launch crept out of Port Arthur with no lights aboard and no glow from the engine to betray her presence. It was late when the launch gained the outer line of the Japanese squadron. She slipped through the torpedo boat pickets and scolding the nearest warship, a big armored cruiser, stole toward her and succeeded in exploding against her side, a single torpedo. A deafening roar followed the explosion which resounded far into the shore at Taikwan Bay. Immediately flames enveloped the cruiser which evidently was badly crippled. The crew of the cruiser was seen to be fighting the flames, which they at last succeeded in extinguishing. A sister ship took the damaged vessel in tow and disappeared to the south east. The launch escaped a hit fire and was beached not far from Dalny. The achievement raised the spirits of the Russians ashore and the young naval officer was feted and recommended for the Cross of St. George.

Reported Fall of Port Arthur

London, May 14.—A telegram from Paris says a rumor is current that Port Arthur has fallen and that 10,000 men were killed during the engagement. No confirmation is obtainable in London.

The Japanese Advance

Washington, May 14.—The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram from Tokio, dated today: "General Kuroki, commander of the first army corps, reports that on May 7th a detachment of four troops occupied Kwan Lien; on May 11th another infantry detachment pursued the enemy's cavalry, which was retreating from Shut Hai Chen, and captured two privates and one lieutenant. The latter is the son of General Hanvill."

Tokio, May 14.—4 p.m.—A detachment of Japanese troops has occupied Kiu Min Tsin, sixty miles northeast of Feng Wang Cheng. On Thursday last a detachment of Japanese attacked and dispersed three hundred Russian cavalry, and captured and wounded several officers and two men. The Russian cavalry was retreating from Luch Behan.

Shan Hai Kwan, May 14.—6 p.m.—Japanese troops from Feng Wang Cheng, occupied Suifu, sixty miles east of Liao Yang, on the main road on Thursday. Their number is not known. The country is hilly.

OTTAWA CORRESPONDENCE

While the flag at half-mast on the parliament building yesterday announced the death of Senator Reid, of Carleton, B.C., W. F. McCreary, M. P. for Selkirk, was lying dead in his room at the Russell House. His death was not discovered until about 6.30 in the evening. Although it must have occurred during the early hours of the morning. The shock and surprise to both Houses, following upon the announcement of Mr. McCreary's sudden and entirely unexpected death was very great. He enjoyed, as he deserved, a very large measure of popularity both in and out of parliament. The fact that his birthplace, Arnprior, is within a few miles of the capital and that one of his brothers, who resides there, had come to Ottawa to see him on business, lent a local interest as well to the melancholy event. Although the day had passed peacefully and the death of Henry Carleton, M.P. for South Bruce, last year, was tragically sudden, that of Mr. McCreary was very much more so. He was in the prime of life and looked younger than his years. He had suffered from no serious illness, and although occasionally complaining of pain about the heart, neither he nor any of his friends suspected that there was anything seriously wrong. During the evening session of Tuesday he had taken an active part in the debate on the railway resolutions, and during the day had transacted as usual his large share of business connected with his parliamentary duties. He remained in the House until it rose about midnight and went to his room apparently feeling as well as ever in his life. His non-appearance at breakfast or lunch that day had occasioned no comment, as he might have got up too late for breakfast and had lunch elsewhere. It was not until after six o'clock in the evening that his door still being found locked, was burst open and his death discovered. An examination showed that death had resulted from natural causes, supposedly weakness of the heart. All that could be done was done by willing friends. At noon today a funeral service was read in the undertaking rooms by Rev. Mr. Selton, pastor of Dominion Methodist church, and attended by almost all the members of the House of Commons, without distinction of politics. The funeral procession then proceeded to the Central railway station and the body was sent to his home in Winnipeg, on the Pacific express. It is accompanied by Messrs. Douglas, Stewart, and Pettie, members of parliament.

A native of Arnprior, Ont., Mr. McCreary had gone to Winnipeg when comparatively young. There he had studied law and for years had been closely connected with the late Sir John Schultz in his business transactions. He was elected M.P. for Winnipeg for four years in succession and afterwards mayor. On leaving the municipality he was appointed Commissioner of Immigration by the Dominion government, which position he held until 1901. In that year he resigned to contest Selkirk in the Liberal interest for the Commons and was elected. He was a candidate for the representation of Selkirk in the Liberal interest at the coming election. He leaves a widow and family of eight children, five sons and three daughters.

On the house assembling at eight o'clock on Wednesday evening, after routine, the Premier moved an adjournment as a mark of respect to the deceased and as an expression of sympathy by the House with his bereaved family. The Premier spoke most feelingly and appropriately. The motion was seconded by Dr. Sproule, who, in the absence of Mr. Borden, was leading the opposition, who also spoke in the most feeling and kindly terms. Hon. Mr. Sifton, as a close personal friend of the deceased member, also added a few appropriate remarks. Today Mr. McCreary's desk in the House of Commons is draped with black and bears two large floral wreaths, the emblems of mourning and of sympathy.

Yesterday afternoon was largely occupied by an entirely unexpected discussion on the question of lumber duties. The House fully expected to go on with the railway proposals in committee of the whole, but Mr. Morrison, Liberal member for New Westminster, B.C., on a motion to adjourn, voiced the demands of the British Columbia lumber mill owners for the imposition of a duty on rough lumber. The essence of his argument seemed to be that as the prairie settlers were the market for the British Columbia lumber mills, and as the settlers were said to be doing well, while the mills were not doing well, it was a combination of circumstances which called for the imposition of a duty on rough lumber, in order to equalize these conditions. He was supported in his contentions by Mr. McPherson, Liberal member for Vancouver, B.C., and by Messrs. Fowler, Clancy and Ingram, members at parliament. Messrs. Mackie, Scott, Davis, Douglas and Oliver opposed. The matter was then allowed to drop and the Railway Bill was taken up, but the afternoon had been lost and the evening adjournment on account of the death of Mr. McCreary, left the day without any progress on the Railway Bill.

The examination of Mr. Macoun on his report on Peace River, was continued in the Agricultural Committee in the morning. Mr. Macoun was asked for the information upon which he based his statement that the alluvial of the Upper Peace river was too cold for successful agriculture. He admitted that he did not base it on the meteorological records which he himself had taken, nor on the records taken and published by Mr. Ogilvie, nor yet on the evidence which he had of experiments with growing crops on the uplands. It remains yet to be seen upon what he did base such a pronounced adverse opinion.

Ottawa, May 15th, 1904.

MODESTY OF THE LUMBER COMBINE

That modesty is not the most distinguishing characteristic of the British Columbia lumber combine goes without saying. But that this organization should have the effrontery to come before Parliament with a demand to be placed in a still better position to work the timber of the Northwest by the imposition of a duty of $1 a thousand feet on rough lumber passes comprehension. But that is what they did on Wednesday afternoon. Messrs. Morrison and McPherson being their spokesmen. These gentlemen came out boldly with the proposition that the North West settlers were the natural and proper market of the British Columbia saw mill men and that the imposition of a two dollar duty on rough lumber was necessary to enable those philanthropists to improve their position which was declared not to be all that they wanted. Messrs. Mackie (a lumberman of the Ottawa valley), Scott, Davis, Douglas and Oliver opposed the proposal to put a duty on rough lumber. Mr. Oliver spoke as follows:

Hannard, May 16th.

Mr. Frank Oliver (Alberta) in reference to the attitude of the hon. gentleman who has just sat down that this debate was one to make angels weep and Jack assen laugh, I may say that I did notice that the hon. gentleman laughed.

In regard to the claims of the hon. member for New Westminster and the hon. member for Burrard (Mr. Macpherson) as to the riches that were being made by the Northwest settlers, and the necessity of the imposition of a duty on lumber, so that they may be compelled to divide up those riches with their dear friends, the lumber manufacturers of British Columbia, let me point out that there is a duty on lumber in Canada to-day. I am not prepared to say at the moment whether it is 20 or 25 per cent; I think it is 25 per cent on dressed lumber. Rough lumber is free of duty. Let me point out to the hon. gentlemen who compose this House that it is the new settlers, the men who are going on their land, who are putting every dollar they have in the world on the chances of a crop and of success, who are the purchasers of this rough lumber, and so much people as increase in the price of $2 per thousand, or as much more as the combine would be thereby enabled to squeeze out of them, is a very serious matter.

Let me point out to the hon. gentlemen from the province of British Columbia themselves that one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of British Columbia's abundant natural resources is lumber, and that the Northwest Territories is the natural, if not the only, market for that lumber. That the increase of the lumber industry in British Columbia and its prosperity depends directly and absolutely upon the increase and success of the settlers of the Northwest Territories. And that any policy that would place an undue tax upon these settlers, which will thereby hamper their exertions and retard their prosperity, is no benefit to the saw-mill industry of British Columbia or to British Columbia as a province. Before the Northwest Territories were settled the forests of British Columbia stood as they stand now, but they were of no value to any one. The growth of the lumber industry of British Columbia has been parallel with and according to the growth of settlement in the Northwest Territories.

Mr. Morrison—No.
Mr. Oliver—Absolutely and entirely. The hon. gentleman himself as the authority on the statement that his territories is their market and that they cannot export to the United States. They have never been, and are not able to do so under the present conditions. Therefore, I say they are more interested than any one else in the prosperity and progress of the people of the territories and in seeing that there shall be no undue hindrance placed upon that progress and prosperity.

As to the comparison made by my hon. friend from Burrard (Mr. Macpherson) in regard to the duties on agricultural products in favour of the people of the Northwest Territories as compared with free lumber against the people of British Columbia, let me say a word. If the duties on agricultural products be of any benefit to the people of the Northwest Territories, and it is a great question if they are, they do not average more than 10 per cent, whereas the duty on dressed lumber is, if I am not mistaken, 25 per cent, 30, on the hon. gentleman's own showing. The saw-mill men of British Columbia will have an advantage of five per cent duty. But that makes no difference. The main thing is that British Columbia's most important industry exists because of the settlement of the Territories. Without that settlement it would not exist and could not exist. Therefore whatever will advance the settlement of the territories, is of direct advantage to the lumber mills of British Columbia. What advantage will it be to the people of British Columbia or the lumber mills there, supposing the duty were made 50 or 100 per cent, if they could not thereby increase their sale of lumber to the people of the territories.

Let me just say to the House that this is only one phase of a large question. The battle cry of the eastern manufacturer seems to be: "The Northwest Territories are rich and can stand it." Let it be thoroughly understood, that as in years gone by, so in years to come, there is a limit which the prosperity of the Northwest Territories cannot stand, and that an unwise and unjust fiscal policy can pro-since elation again in the Northwest in years to come as it did in years gone by. If this country is going ahead to-day, and it is going ahead as it never went ahead before, it is because of the settlement and progress of the Northwest Territories. There is the secret of that prosperity. There is the fact wherein that prosperity can be accounted for. It is not in the interest of the woolen manufacturers, the cotton manufacturers, the steel manufacturers, the lumber manufacturers, or any other class of manufacturers, that that prosperity should be checked in any degree by unjust impositions on behalf of any section of these manufacturing industries.

However, enough upon that point. I would like to say that I very much regret that this discussion came up at this present time, and all the more because it must have come up under a misapprehension. As we know, communication with British Columbia has been blocked for some weeks in the mountains by snow slides and otherwise, and we must take it for granted that as there has been an interruption of the mails, my hon. friend from New Westminster has not the latest information upon this subject. That, when he got up and made the statement to this House that the lumbermen of British Columbia were in very bad shape, that they were being shut out of their natural market by competition from the United States, he was under a misapprehension, not being possessed of the latest information on the subject. Because I read in this evening's Ottawa Journal a telegram from Vancouver, dated May 4. This information is up to date, and I am sure that when my hon. friend hears it he will be only too pleased to forego the arguments that he placed before the House earlier in the afternoon. It is as follows:—

LUMBER FOR PRAIRIE HOMES.

Heavy Orders Being Placed with British Columbia Mills this Season.

Vancouver, May 4.—The prairies of the Northwest have sent out their call for lumber and shingles, and the demand cannot be supplied at the present time on account of the shortage of freight cars.

The Canadian Pacific Railway have not enough freight cars.

This was brought about by the recent tie-up of Canadian Pacific Railway traffic due to slides in the mountains. The railroad company is now commencing to secure cars, and it is not expected that lumber shipments to the Northwest will be long delayed.

Whether the impulse imparted to trade between the coast saw-mills and the prairie is due to the arrangement regarding transportation rates recently arrived at between the mills and the railroad company—

Nothing there about a duty, —or because the season of building operations in the territory east of the mountains is at hand, is not stated. The fact remains that heavy orders for lumber have been received by the local mills.

Undoubtedly the heaviest users of lumber on the prairies this season will be the incoming settlers.—

Not the people who have made their money, but the people who are spending their money in the hope of making money in the years to come.

—who are reported to be swarming into the territory lying between the borders of Manitoba and Calgary at the rate of three thousand per week.

Mr. Morrison.—May I answer the hon. gentleman very shortly? I ask him if he is unsophisticated enough to drink in an item of that kind in view of the fact that the Hastings mill which is the largest mill in British Columbia, is closed down to-day.

Mr. Oliver.—I must admit that I am. A statement of fact is a statement of fact, whether it accords with the theories put forward by hon. gentlemen or not.

A certain amount of rough lumber manufactured in the State of Washington is finding its way into the Northwest market. Where it enters into active competition with British Columbia lumber, it has not displaced the latter.

An Albertan in Scotland

Kirkcaldy Free Press:

Mr. John A. McPherson, of Spruce Grove, Edmonton, Canada, is at present on a three days' visit to Kirkcaldy as agent appointed by the Dominion government with a view to supplying information to intending emigrants. Mr. McPherson is a practical farmer, having been 22 years farming in the Northwest, and is therefore well qualified to speak on the subject, and he lays before his inquirers a very fair statement, showing the thorny as well as the rosy sides of life in the new country. The class of emigrants he considers likely to do best are farmers and farm laborers, while general laborers, as also builders and joiners, are always in demand, although it is the farming interest he chiefly represents. He says a man intending to start a farm should have $100 to $200, although many whom he has known personally have come into the country with no capital, and after obtaining employment, and learning something of the style of work, had within ten years made comfortable homes for themselves, with stock and implements free of debt. The skilled farm laborer in Northern Alberta can easily find employment at from 24 to 45 per month, in addition to boarding with the family. This holds for the summer season of about eight months. For the remaining four months, while many of the hired men are still kept on, others find ample employment in that district at the lumbering industry, where good wages are earned. According to the land laws, every British subject over eighteen years of age can obtain a free homestead of 160 acres, having practically a choice of any part of the government lands. He has only to pay ten dollars on making application for the land, and within six months of the time of making the application, the party must be in residence upon the land, and to remain there six months each year for three years and to have at least fifteen acres brought under a state of cultivation. Having fulfilled these requirements, they would at the end of three years get a certificate of ownership without any further cost. The land in his district is also well supplied with coal. Edmonton, the chief town of Northern Alberta, is a progressive business centre on the Saskatchewan river, and is at present the terminus of the Calgary and Edmonton railway. Mr. McPherson has been in town since Thursday, and can be seen at Mr. Durr's bookseller, any time today.

Aberdeen Free Press: Mr. John A. McPherson, agent for the Dominion Government, is at present on a visit to this country for the purpose of giving information concerning Western Canada to intending emigrants. With this object, Mr. McPherson has visited Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Dundee, and has now reached Aberdeen.

Western Canada is to a large extent a "new" country, and the classes of immigrants most desired therefore are the farming and farm-laboring. Female domestic servants are also required. For all of these the prospects in Western Canada are excellent.

Farmers who desire to settle in Western Canada should have a capital of from $100 to $200. On making application to the Canadian Government they are given a free grant of 160 acres of land. This land is not, as some have the impression, undesirable land. The whole of the country belonging to the Government is surveyed out into sections, and all the even numbers are available for the settler, so that he has a wide range of choice. The land, of course, is uncultivated. It is virgin soil, and the settler has to build upon it a house in which to live. These houses are constructed of timber, which is fairly plentiful. Each settler who takes a grant of Government land requires to reside upon his farm six months in each year for the first three years, at the end of which he must have a minimum of about 15 acres under cultivation. If he complies with these conditions he may then make application for a title deed to the land which then becomes his own property. It may be mentioned that the district of Edmonton, the centre for Northern Alberta, is well adapted for mixed farming, while Mackenzie and Eastern Saskatchewan are grain-raising districts. Improved farms—i.e. ground partly cultivated—may be had at certain terms in different parts of the country, while settlers may purchase land, on easy terms, from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Edmonton, the name of the district to which the foregoing remarks more particularly apply is also the name of the central town of the district. The population of the town is nearly 10,000, and it is situated on the north bank of the Saskatchewan River. It is lit by electric light, has waterworks and a complete system of sewers, while a service of electric tramsways is in process of introduction. It is a rapidly developing township—a remark which applies to all the towns in Western Canada. The climate of the country is healthy, colder in winter than here, but fairly equable, and more sunny.

OF AN ALBERTA COWBOY

A Pincher Creek Man Ends His Life
During a Fit of Insanity

On Saturday evening the people of Pincher Creek were shocked to hear of the suicide of John P. Shuell, which took place at the ranch of W.T. Eddy near Cowley. The man had been missing since the Monday before, and was wanted by the police on a serious charge. No trace of him could be found, and it was only on Saturday evening that Mr. Eddy discovered the body covered up in the hay loft. It was lying on its back, the revolver by the right temple and the right arm bent. The bullet had entered at the right temple and passed out a little above the left. Mr. Eddy at once telegraphed to Coroner Gould who went out on Sunday morning and held an inquest.

From the evidence at the inquest it appeared that the deceased had been working at Eddy's ranch prior to the trouble. His horse and saddle had been left there when he came into Pincher Creek. He had evidently committed suicide on Tuesday night, as on that day Mr. Eddy had missed his six shooter, which he used for slaughtering beef cattle on Tuesdays and Fridays. On Wednesday morning, Boker, an employee of Eddy's, had found a little blood on the floor of the stable, but had cleaned it up, thinking nothing of it as the stable was full of cows. When found the body was deeply imbedded in the hay, as if deceased had decided to sleep there for the night.

The jury brought in a verdict of "suicide during a fit of temporary insanity." It is generally believed that the deceased had not been quite in his right mind of late having greatly altered in manner during the past winter.

FIVE THOUSAND CHINESE

Shan Hai Kwan, May 12.—It is reported here that a force of five thousand Chinese regulars are marching to the northward, and it is believed that Ninchow is their destination. The General in command made the move with the full knowledge and consent of the Japanese. The Chinese regulars will garrison Nishuang and other places in southern Manchuria evacuated by the Russians.

Bangs Restores Stolen Money

Colegary, May 12.—Dominion Government Detective Chamberlain and J. A. Bangs came up from Regina where Bangs had been committed for complicity in the mail robbery case. When they arrived here in the early morning Bangs said the money had been hidden in the country and that he would go out and get it. Chamberlain went down to Bangs' house a little while after and Bangs produced the money, over $5,000 in Merchants Bank bills. It would appear from this that Bangs had been busy and had had the money exchanged as the bills stolen were Bank of Hamilton ones.

A Hustling Concern

Much favorable comment has been caused by the enterprise and pluck shown by many of the Toronto firms whose places of business were destroyed in the terrible conflagration of April 19th. In no single instance was this more apparent than in the case of E. W. Gillett Company, Limited, manufacturers of Royal Yeast, Gillett's Lye, Mince Baking Powder, etc., whose large factory and beautiful offices, together with contents, office furniture, machinery and stock, were totally consumed. In less than an hour after the walls had fallen in, Mr. Dobie, general manager of the company, had telegraphed for the necessary materials to permit manufacturing operations to be started with as little delay as possible. By noon of the following day, offices had been secured at 15 Wellington Street East, and completely furnished, and when visited next morning at nine o'clock, the office staff were all at work. Factory premises had also been secured, and a small army often were busy at work installing the duplicate set of machinery, which the daily mail company had in reserve in another part of the city. This was complete with the exception of one machine which was brought from Chicago by express, and is undoubtedly the heaviest express parcel that ever arrived in Toronto, as it weighed over four tons. A full carload of supplies and material arrived in the same way. By the morning energy and enterprise displayed by the management and large staff of employees, the company have been enabled to commence filling orders within six days after their old premises were destroyed. This is a record that any company might well be proud of, and will be a source of great satisfaction to stockholders of the company and a relief to the thousands of grocers in all parts of the Dominion handling the various articles manufactured by the Gillett Company, many of whom evince their interest by letter and telegraphic inquiries as to when they could expect further supplies. Factories will be run day and night and every effort made to fill all orders as promptly as possible, and the company will at once proceed to erect an extensive up-to-date factory, which will enable them to keep pace with the ever increasing demand for their goods.

ACCEPTED PLANS FOR THE NEW SCHOOL

The school board met in the Secretary's office on Thursday to consider the report of the committee appointed to secure plans for the proposed May avenue school. The committee reported that after carefully considering the various plans submitted, they had decided that those prepared by Mr. H. D. Johnson were the best adapted to the needs of the board. The report was adopted and Mr. Johnson was asked to prepare an estimate of the cost of the building in order to provide the board with the facts necessary to prepare a by-law providing for borrowing the money.

The plans accepted are for a two storey brick school, containing eight class rooms with a basement containing three other rooms capable of being used as class rooms in future. The sketch shows a plain, substantial, but attractive building.

WATSON GRIFFIN'S HOME MARKET

(Written by a Farmer.)

The farmer is asked to vote for higher tariff, so that he can have more of a home market. Let us look at the States' home market. They have no more of a home market than they had fifty years ago, nor as much. They raise as he says, 650 million bushels of wheat. They sell to the outside market 200 million bushels, that leaves 450 million bushels consumed at home. How is it consumed? Take the farmers, big and little, and they consume nearly one half of the wheat. They use three hundred million bushels, leaving 150 million to be consumed by the towns. It is the same and more so with their pork and nearly the same with their beef. He shows what the Canadians raise, but he doesn't take into consideration that the farmer is their best customer. There is another thing to be looked at, what proportion of a people gets employment in the protected industries? Not one in fifty and by giving them employment the trade and traffic of the whole country is cleared up. S. C. Cook said in the United States Congress that it costs the United States $1000 a head to maintain a man, woman and child who work in the protected factories and the country would be better off to give them $1000 a year for their life. Suppose we cut off the tariff on the Northwest get a high tariff, how will it fix us here? It will raise the freights on our wheat say 10 per cent and raise the price of what we buy 10 per cent, making it 20 per cent against it. It will ruin the whole country just to give a few cents a year to a few men at our expense. People don't take into consideration that there are no men at work in their own town in protected industries. In fact the few that are protected are only in small districts and the markets that the farmer gets none or nearly so, except in their immediate vicinity.

To Advertisers

Owing to increase of circulation of the daily and semi-weekly Bulletin it has become necessary to print the semi-weekly on the morning of the day of publication instead of the evening as hitherto. Therefore it has become impossible to insert advertisements or make changes on the day of publication. To insure the insertion of new advertisements they should be handed in early in the afternoon of the day before publication. Changes should be handed in as much sooner as possible as four of the pages of the semi-weekly are printed 1 to 2 days before publication.

ASTLEYVILLE

(Bulletin Correspondence).

Mr. Perritt, school inspector, paid a visit to this settlement on Monday last. He was accompanied by Mrs. Perritt. The young men here are quite interested in football. They expect to have some good times this summer and a chance to play against some other team. They will meet for practice as soon as the ball arrives. Mr. Burr paid a flying visit to his home town on Saturday last returning to Edmonton on Sunday. Brighter report seen very bad mud tracks between here and H. Belle. Last Friday being Arbor Day, the children of the school here, with the assistance and guidance of Mr. Wray spent the day decorating the school and grounds, which is quite a credit to them. Many farmers around here will be through with their seeding next week. Astleyville, May 14, 1904.

WESTERN NEWS

—Corpl. Harvey and two Northwest Mounted Policemen have deserted the force at Medicine Hat. A search for them is in progress.

—Lacomb Globe: W. F. Puffer, the cattle dealer, shipped ten cars of stock last week. This makes fifty-five cars of stock shipped by Mr. Puffer this spring, and then wonder if Lacombe district is suitable for cattle raising. No one firm north of Calgary can boast of a better spring shipment than the above.

—Southern, N. W. T., May 11.—At 10.00 Monday night the coroner's jury in the murder case were charged and gave the following verdict after being out thirty minutes: That Victorine Schuster came to her death from neglect and ill-usage by her brother, John. The preliminary trial before a magistrate will begin here on Tuesday.

—Macled Gazette: Instructions have been received from the Dominion Department of Agriculture that any range or unbroken horses imported from the United States into Canada must be accompanied by a certificate from the State veterinarian of the State where the shipment commences stating that the animals are free from disease and that no infectious or contagious disease has existed in the locality whence the horses came for six months prior to shipment.

—Within the next two weeks two million trees will be sent out from the departmental farms at Brandon and Indian Head to be planted by farmers in the west. Within the past few years, tree planting has attained great popularity throughout the west. In 1901 the first year of free distribution, applications were received for only 50,000, in 1902 half a million were sent out; in 1903 this number had increased to one million, and this year, as has been stated, the number has reached the two million mark. Maple, cottonwood, ash and elm are the varieties sent out.

—Free Press: Mr. J. W. Stewart, of the firm of Foley Bros. & Larson, informed a representative of the Free Press yesterday that he had just two grading contracts recently. Jackson and McMenemy will do the grading on the Phasant Hills branch of the C. P.R. which runs through Last Mountain Valley, from the end of J. D. McArthur's contract on what is known as the Kirihihi extension, a distance of 40 miles. J. D. L. Johnson will grade the Lacombe branch, 25 miles; the Wetaskiwin contract has not been let but Engineer Featherstonhough left Tuesday evening to take charge for the company.

—Three members of the American Agriculturalists recently made a 4,000 mile tour through Manitoba, Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Their report of what they saw, after returning to the adaptability of Western Canada for the growing of small grains and to the excellence of the stock, says: "Among the settlers are many from the United States. Such rapid development as we saw is only possible in a country blessed with a fertile soil and a prosperous people. The future of Western Canada is full of promise. Rapid and substantial development is certain. When the newer parts of the United States were settled, they had much to contend with. There were no railroads, consequently no markets. With the settlers in Canada everything is different. Railroads have preceded them, furnishing at once a market and means of securing the comforts of modern farm life."

—Commercial: The Ontario retailer is confronted with the probability of an advance in prices as the result of shrinkage in stocks, owing to the great fire in Toronto and the increased cost of raw material. This firmness would probably be reflected in the western market. Here is what a Toronto authority says: "It is well for retailers to remember, however, that stocks at present in hand show a large shrinkage compared with the total supplies in the market ten days ago. It is a fact well known alike to the wholesaler and the retail merchant that repeat orders for general drygoods now on hand would cost all the way from 20 per cent. paid for advance on the price would cost up to a cent a yard more to replace now. Dress goods, linings, canvas, tailors' trimmings and linens would in some cases probably cost more than the amount stated in advance of the basis of present stocks. While no one has advanced prices as yet as a result of the destruction of stock, the keen demand for the goods will soon make it necessary to secure higher prices, as it will soon be necessary to repeat a number of lines if the present activity of the demand continues."

ALBERTA BASE BALL LEAGUE

W. Halliday returned on Saturday from Red Deer, where he went on Friday as representative of the Edmonton baseball club to the provincial convention called to consider the question of forming an Alberta baseball league. The other representatives present were: Alderman Kerr, Calgary; J. F. Richards, Wetaskiwin; E. S. Hogg, Edmonton.

It was decided to form a five club league, including the four clubs represented and the Strathcona club, provided they wish to join. They were given until the 26th inst. to consider the matter of entering. The officers of the league elected are:

President, Ald. Kerr, Calgary.
Vice President, W. Halliday, Edmonton.
Secretary, W. W. Whipsaw, Wetaskiwin.

E. L. Hogg was chosen committee-man, to constitute with the officers, the executive of the league. In the event of the Strathcona club entering, they are entitled to choose a representative on the executive. The executive meet in Calgary on Victoria Day to draft a schedule for the season and transact other necessary business.

—Little's trick yard began operations for the season last week.
—A raft of logs for D. R. Fraser & Co. came down today.
—The baseball club held their regular practice on the Hudson Bay grounds tonight.
—The Ancient-Order of Foresters met in Housh's hall tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.
—The fire brigade and the town football teams play on the Hudson Bay grounds to-night.
—The lacrosse men hold their first regular practice on the H. B. grounds to-night.
—A tide drain has been put in to drain the jail property down to the river bank.
—An attempt is being made to get a lacrosse team together to play the Fort team on Victoria Day.
—The California boarding houses have been moved back several feet from the street and the foundation put in for an addition to the front.
—W. McKay leaves the latter part of the week to begin work on the new government telegraph line to the Landing.

—G. Gilmer is erecting a small brick building between the Edmonton Music Company and the Bon Ton.
—Wetaskiwin ratepayers vote on June 4th on a by-law to raise $25,000 to install an electric light and power plant.
—H. W. B. Douglas is in Calgary this week. N. May of the Strathcona store has been temporarily transferred to the branch here.

—The sessions of the District meeting being held this week in McDougall church are open to the public and all are invited to attend.
—Wetaskiwin Times: Miss M. Campbell, who has been at photographer in Henwood & Wilkins' office for some time, left on Saturday for Strathcona. She is being succeeded here by Miss M. Howard, of Edmonton.

—A citizen complains to the Bulletin that small boys crawl with 22 rifles have been shooting robins and other birds on the Great estate, and thinks the matter should be investigated by the authorities.
—Probs. Heavy showers fell in many parts of Saskatchewan and Assiniboia yesterday. The outlook for Alberta is for continued fine weather, clearing in Saskatchewan and Assiniboia and showers in Manitoba.

—The first Choral Society practice will be held in Robertson's Hall on Tuesday evening, May 17th, at 8 o'clock sharp. Full and prompt attendance of all those who have signified their intention of joining and also all others who wish to join is requested.

—A. McKay of Horse Hills is in town to-day. The farmers in that district are rushing seeding operations and will have finished in a short time. The grain is exceptionally well advanced, the ground being moist and the growth rapid. Many of the farmers in that district have used their own seed and their fields have sprouted quickly and are looking splendid.

—It is reported that several good entertainments will be given in Lloydminster on next Dominion Day. The chief feature of the day however will be the grand military gymnastics in aid of the colony hospital, which will be held in the afternoon. That this display will be a success it is only necessary to say that all those taking part in the same are either old Life Guardsmen, Horse Guardsmen or Dragoons or Hussars, nearly every well-known cavalry regiment in the Imperial service being represented. It is expected also that a number of Indians from Onion Reserve will come in for the day's amusement.

—Regin's Leader: Mr. Russell Melville, a well to do rancher, of this city, is in Toronto this week in search of his missing wife who recently disappeared without informing her husband whither she was going. The married life of this couple dates back about a year ago and was begun under rather romantic circumstances. Melville, who was at that time at the Walker House in Toronto, met a pretty dining room girl by the name of Katie Cole. Their mutual sympathies for each other were aroused by the discovery of the fact that both were natives of England. Melville's interest, thus aroused, soon ripened into ardent affection. Learning that Miss Cole was anxious to revisit Old England, he gave her a ticket across the water and in addition a costly wardrobe, $150 worth, a diamond ring and other valuables. On the return from England of Miss Cole, Melville met her at Montreal, where they were married and from which place they moved to this city. Their married life was, however, destined to be brief, for after a few short months of ranching life, Mrs. Melville departed one night in the manner aforesaid and the disappointed husband is at present on a search for her.

ALBERTA COLLEGE

The authorities of Alberta College are making preparations to begin work at once on their new residence building on College avenue.

Referring to the agitation in some quarters to have the hill side along the avenue preserved on account of the view afforded by it a prominent citizen made the pertinent suggestion on Saturday that the time to act in the matter, if action is to be taken, is now, before building operations are begun.

Around the Shoulders

That's where a coat is most apt to go astray. Unless it is properly made there, it won't fit under the arms, and the collar will look like a piece of grass work.

By our method, proper tailoring is reduced to a science.

Tailor made suits to standard measure, $16 to $18.00.

Made to your measure suits, $16 to $22.00.
